(Den means something they made themselves such as a cabin/hut like structure.)

Violet still couldn't believe this was her life now. She had a dream from Starclan. She is supposed to change Tigerclaw's fate. How can I change his fate? I care about him. After a lot of reflection I have realized that he's not at fault for how he turned out. Not after Pinestar wasn't even an active father to him and he leaves to be a pet soon after they lost Tigerclaw's sisters. Then he had that idiot Thistleclaw as his mentor. He latches onto him as a father figure. Maybe I can do something to help him.

Throughout her short time here she noticed Goldenflower and Tigerclaw weren't really in love but played nice for Tawnykit and Bramblekit. Ravenpaw was already with Barley by the time she arrived. Spottedleaf is still alive. She's not sure what Tigerclaw thinks about her. The only ones who are still hostile to her are Longtail, Darkstripe, and Sandstorm. Brokentail is also a prisoner and Yellowfang is a part of Thunderclan as a medicine cat with Spottedleaf.

She decided she would try to get closer to Tigerclaw. She asks if she can join him for a hunt. He reluctantly agrees and she grabs a bow and quiver of arrows.

She sees a deer a few feet away. She climbs onto the tree aims and hits the deer in the neck making it fall limp to the ground. Tigerclaw was impressed.

"You hunt a lot?" He asked.

"First time actually. I have used a bow a few times though. I've always preferred the older weapons like swords and bow and arrows as opposed to guns and crap." She hopped down from the tree and they head towards the fallen deer. It was actually a good sized young buck. They made their way back to camp.

"Wow!" Graystripe said.

"Violet killed it. One shot with an arrow. It was quite impressive to see." Tigerclaw surprised them giving the girl a compliment.

She is the only non Neko in Thunderclan which means she's still sort of clueless to a lot of things. It's similar to the books but not the exact same. So being commended especially by Tigerclaw of all people was an honor and an extremely rare accomplishment.

"Wonderful! It's nice to see you getting along with our newest family member, Tigerclaw." Bluestar smiled as some of the Warriors took the buck and went to skin it and prepare it.

"Violet, have you been introduced to the queens and kits yet?" He asked.

"I haven't." She replied. He grabbed her hand dragging her to the Nursery to introduce her to them.

"Oh, hello there! You must be the young girl everyone is talking about!" A pretty golden haired woman smiled at her kindly.

"You're so pretty!" A kit (Tawnykit) said. She blushed saying a quiet thank you.

"This is Violet. Violet, this Goldenflower. Our kits Tawnykit and Bramblekit. Brindleface and her kits Cloudkit, Ashkit, and Fernkit. Frostfur and her kits Brackenkit and Cinderkit. And finally Speckletail and Snowkit."

"It's nice to meet you all." Violet gives them a cute grin.

"Can you play with us, Violet?" Cloudkit asked pouting.

"I'd love to. Is that alright?" She asked Tigerclaw and the mothers.

"Would you mind? We could use a nap." Speckletail said.

"Of course, Speckletail. What do you guys wanna do? Think you guys can show me around camp? I still get lost."

"Yeah we can show you!" They said. But before they left Bramblekit asked to be picked up. She checks with his parents and they give her a smile and nod so she picks up the young neko and follows the other excited nekos.

"You like her, don't you? That's why you don't look at me the same and why you don't want anything to do with her. You've liked her since she got here." Goldenflower said.

"I never meant to. It just happened. I kept an eye on her at first because I didn't think she could be trusted. Then I just always found myself looking for her whenever I knew she was around. I really do want her. I'm sorry, Goldenflower."

"It's alright. Since noticing we were having problems Lionheart has been asking for me to be his mate."

"I'm glad you already have someone to love."

Oneeye watched amused as the kits dragged the girl around. She can tell they are happy having a new friend to play with. She wants to get to know her better.

"Violet!" She called out. Violet looks over at her before heading her way with the kits.

"Hello, Oneeye. Is there anything I can do for you?" She asked smiling kindly to the elderly Neko.

"It's been a while since I've told anyone stories." Oneeye said. She sat on the ground at her feet the kits crawling on her.

"I always loved listening to my grandparents and parents about their life growing up. What do you have to tell us, Oneeye?"

She grinned as she started telling them stories soon being joined by Dappletail, Smallear, and Patchpelt telling stories of their own.

When Fireheart, Graystripe, Tigerclaw, Bluestar, and the mothers found them they were joking and playing around with elders. Fireheart and Graystripe made a loud complaint about being excluded much to Violent and the kits delight. They were all giggling as the two young toms attacked them joining in the fun and laughter.

"Come along kits it's time for your nap." Frostfur said.

They grumbled. Violet giggled.

"Don't worry. I'll be here when you wake up. We'll play again soon okay? Listen to your mother's and go on so we can play again." She hugged them all leading them over to their respective mothers.

"And you two! You're just overgrown kits!" She said playfully to Graystripe and Fireheart.

Graystripe gave a dramatic gasp. "Take that back!"

"Nope. What are you going to do?" She challenged before he tackled her to the ground. They tumbled around until he had her pinned and tickled her into surrender.

"Cheater!" She gasped out panting for breath as Fireheart helped her off the ground as Graystripe gave her a smug look. Tigerclaw watched in jealous amusement. She's so lively. He starts thinking about his plan to become Thunderclan's leader. If he tried getting the rogues and Shadowclan to attack Thunderclan there was a high chance Violet would either be hurt or even killed. He can't take that chance. Losing her was not a risk he was willing to take. He thinks he can be content as long as he has her by his side as his new mate. He took Bluestar aside and spoke about this change.

"I no longer wish to be with Goldenflower. She has told me she already has a new mate in Lionheart. I want Violet to be my mate.I tried staying away from her because I already liked her but I still saw her and I fell in love with her anyway."

"She will make an excellent addition to the clan. She fits in well. And I think she would do you and this clan some good.I approve. But, before we announce her as a new member of Thunderclan make sure sh wants to join as well as be your mate."

Tigerclaw made his way to Violet and the two young warriors.

He told them they were going on patrol and offered Violet to tag along to see what happened during patrol. She agreed and when they left the camp he had the two young men go ahead of them so he could talk to her privately.

"Is everything okay, Tigerclaw?" She asked wondering why he sent the two ahead leaving her alone with Tigerclaw.

"Goldenflower and I broke up. She is with Lionheart now. And...I want you to be my mate Violet. And a member of Thunderclan." She looks at him surprised. "You want me to be a member of Thunderclan and your mate?"

"Yes. I've wanted you ever since you got here. I was wary of you at first so I kept watch of you. And before I knew it I was in love with you."

She gave him a hug and kiss on the cheek. "Of course, Tigerclaw. I would love to be your mate! And it would be an honor to be a part of Thunderclan."

He grinned pulling her into him and giving her a passionate kiss. He let her go and they ran to the patrol who were renewing the scent markers and gossiping. They turned and we're surprised to see her leaning against Tigerclaw there hands entwined.

"You're going to be mates!" Fireheart said

"That's why you and Goldenflower broke up!" Graystripe said in realization.

"It wasn't planned but she's so charming I didn't have a chance. Don't worry about Goldenflower she has Lionheart as her new mate. I've already discussed this with Bluestar. She's also going to become a member of Thunderclan. I will be helping her become the warrior she is destined to be." Tigerclaw smiled at his younger mate.

"Can I talk to you for a minute, Violet?" Fireheart lead a few feet away.

"If you're going to tell me he killed the previous Deputy I know that already. He's different now. You wouldn't let him hurt Bluestar and neither would I. Just trust that I know what I'm doing, okay?" She asked.

He looked shocked but with a pout he nodded in acceptance.

They made their way back to Tigerclaw and Graystripe. They talked to her about patrols and then once they saw nothing was going on they went back to the camp. Tigerclaw took Violet to Bluestar's den. When Bluestar looked up she saw a happy Tigerclaw, shy Violet, and their hands entwined.

"She agreed to both didn't she?" Bluestar smiled.

"She did." He said excitedly.

She called a meeting. "Violet is joining the Clan and her mate and I will teach her our ways. Goldenflower is no longer Tigerclaw's mate. She is now mates with Lionheart. And Violet is Tigerclaw's new mate. Welcome our newest clan mate Violet!"

The only ones who didn't agree with this was Sandstorm, Darkstripe, and Longtail. Longtail felt similar to her as did with Fireheart. Darkstripe is lusting after her and that pisses him off. And Sandstorm is jealous of how pretty she is as well as how close she is to Fireheart and Graystripe.

"Mama Violet! Mama Violet!" Tawnykit and Bramblekit squealed running up to Violet and jumping into her arms giving her kisses.

She giggled as they gave her sloppy kisses all over her face.

"Alright, alright. That's enough you rascals." Tigerclaw chuckled eyes full of love and amusement.

"Betrayed by my own kits." Goldenflower joked her and Lionheart joining them.

"Welcome to the family, Violet. Good to have you here." Lionheart said kindly.

Violet has always been aware of Darkstripe watching her. She always felt uncomfortable. Now since Bluestar announced her as an actual member of Thunderclan and the mate of Tigerclaw she feels unsafe around him. Tigerclaw has noticed her anxiousness lately and took her to their den for her to unwind and relax. He laid on their bed pulling her into him playing with her hair.

"What's wrong, Vi?"

"I've noticed Darkstripe watching since I got here. At first he just made me uncomfortable just being around him. But since Bluestar announced me as your mate I feel unsafe around him. It's almost like whenever I'm in the same area as him he has this dark aura surrounding him. It terrifies me and I don't trust him." She explained nervously.
